A Series of Tales, in Three Sets,—Irish, Legal, and Miscellaneous; with FIFTY-ONE ILLUSTRATIONS, the chef-d'œuvres of GEO. CRUIKSHANK. In a large and closely-printed volume, 12s. cloth, gilt tops.

"This is an extraordinary performance. Such an union of the painter, the poet, and the novelist, in one person, is unexampled. A tithe of the talent that goes to making the stories would set up a dozen of annual writers; and a tithe of the inventive genius that is displayed in the illustrations would furnish a gallery of the colour-mixers in Essex Street and the Strand."

SPECTATOR.

"Contains some of Cruikshank's best designs, and some of the most amusing tales in our language."

WESTMINSTER REV.

THE BEAUTY OF THE HEAVENS;

Consisting of One Hundred and Four Scenes, on separate Cards, beautifully coloured, representing the principal Astronomical Phenomena, accompanied by an Elementary Lecture on Astronomy, expressly adapted for family instruction and entertainment.
